

The Institute for Educational Studies

In affiliation with

VAN LOAN SCHOOL
AT ENDICOTT COLLEGE

Adult Learners studying for a Montessori credential can earn substantial financial credit toward receiving their Master of Education in Montessori Integrative Learning.

What if there is a way to learn that not only utilizes the knowledge and experience you have gained but also values it... seeing it as a tool for further growth? What if there is a place that allows you to share with other people seeking intellectual and personal growth? What if there is a place where you could not only explore new ideas in a safe way, but also take substantial risks – all without fear of failure? What if there is a way to hold an alternative idea without feeling threatened or a need to defend yourself? What if you can do all this while furthering your education and deepening your understanding and potential for a sustainable Earth? Welcome to TIES.

The Institute for Educational Studies is a global campus: education without borders. The online platform encompasses endless learning media such as written, audio, video, tactile arts, musical arts, experiential labs, and collaborative community building. The TIES syllabus prepares and promotes the idea that each of us has a unique role in shaping the future. The M.Ed. program of study embraces learning as a lifelong process, integrating knowledge and experience in a vibrant learning community. In fact, most students and graduates will tell you that their TIES experience was personally transformative.

While in training you can receive a $4,500 reduction in tuition (20%) as well as credit for your Foundations coursework. Your training internship will substitute for the regular 150 hour Master's practicum.

The Institute for Educational Studies and Endicott College are now accepting applications for our 2018 September Cohort. To explore the program reach out to an Admissions Guide at 800-457-5672 or email explore@ties-edu.org. The application is fully online and can be found here: <https://www.ties-edu.org/mil/application/>. Admission priority is based on submission date of Part One of the Admission's application. Financial aid is available and funds may be used toward your training fees.

You need to apply to the M.Ed. prior to graduating from your training program to receive partnership benefits. Please be in touch to open a dialogue so that we can help coordinate timing for your application process.

“Integrative learning is infinite. It holds the boundless energy and wisdom of the Universe. This means that it is cyclical in nature, sharing the attributes of creation, always feeding back on itself. It makes maximum use of body, mind, and spirit. It considers all possibilities, resulting in creativity, humility, and a sense of boundless wisdom in the learner.”

–TIES Faculty

“Understanding the truth, which is lived in the moment, holds us together, fosters kinship with all creatures, and expresses the individual's connection with the whole. It is critical for sustained ecological awareness and discovery into the greater context that lies beyond ourselves.”

–TIES Graduate